BLAND'S BILL PASSES HOUSE

Fifty Democrats Vote Against and Nineteen Republicans for the Measure.

THE POPULISTS ARE SANGUINE

They Expect to Run Things in 1895. Senator Frye Announces the Cavein of President Cleveland's Hawaiian Structure-The Peculiar Position of the Member from the Lone Star State-The Kearsage to Be Raised.

Washington, March 1. HE Bland seignorage bill passedуена 158, паук 129,

By the votes of exactly the number that constitutes a quorum of the house of representatives-164 year and 13 pays, a total of 179 the order limiting debate upon the Bland seign-lorage bilt was adopted foday on the first roll call, and the end of the long fight had practically come. The remainder of the day was devoted merely to making the victory secure.

Mr. Bland offered a substitute for the pending measure, intending to obviate some of the objections urged against it, and several amendments were proposed. After debate under the five-minute rule, proposed amond ments were rejected, and Mr. Bland's substitute accepted for the original bill, and passed, 168 to 129, fifty Damocrats voting against the bill and nineteen Republicans for it.

The house then passed the bill appro priating $45,000 to raise the wreck of the corvette Kearsage, sunk on Roucador reef.

Today, when that resolution was laid before the senate, it was peremotorily withdrawn by Mr. Voornees, "by tite request" of the senator from Texas.

MR. FRYE'S HAWAIIAN SPEECH. Mr. Frye, Maine, concluded hie speech on the Hawaiian question with the declaration that if there was any weight to be given to character behind words, or if there was anything in the preponderence of testimony, then the foundation on which President Cleveland had builded his structure had disappeared, and the edifice had fallen

The public printing office bill was taken up and was made the text of a political and tariff controversy between Mr. Dolph. Oregon, and Mr. Allen, Populist, Nebraska, in which the former predicted that the Republican party, and the latter that the Populist party would be in control of the house of representatives in 2895. The senate at 4.25 adjourned till Monday.

SOMERVILLE TRAGEDY.

An Attempt at Burglary Results in the Death of Four People

SOMERVILLE, N. J., March 1 -A hor-rible tragedy occurred early this morning at the home of Moore Baker, near Franklin park, in this county. Mr. Baker's wife and year-old baby were murdered and their murderers, Willard Thompson and Henry Baker, both young negroes, were killed by the frenzied busband and father of the victims. Baker is a powerfully built young farmer of about 30 years. He is quite well off. He married Louisa Evans three ago and a baby girl was the result of the union. Henry Baker, the young negro, has worked for Moore, Baker's father for years, and has often worked for the son also. Yesterday afternoon Henry asked

Baker for a loan of $3. Mr. Baker asked him if he could change a $100 bill, and upon the negro saying no, he produced the bill and showed it to him. This money was what the negroes were after. The coroner's july rendered a verdict of murder in the case of the mother and child, and of justifiable homicide as to the killing of the two negroes, thus experating Mr. Baker.

A Large Audience Witnesses the Commencement Exercises.

IT IS THE FIFTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

Captain Pratt's Theories Upon the cessful-Marked Progress of the The Essays and Orations of Graduates, in Many Instances, Evidenced Lofty Sentiments.

N AUDIENCE of almost 2,000 people witnessed the interesting commencement exercises of the Industrial school this aftermoon. The great interest of the ecasion was further heightened by the celebration at the same time of the filteenth suniversary of the institution which Captain R. H. Pratt estab-lished in the heart of the Cumberland valley. As an army officer of many years' experience on the frontier he early resched the conclusion that the Indian question, if it was ever to be solved, must be accomplished through coimitation and every-lay contact with the civilized white people; that the tribal relations must be broken up, that the Indian must be treated as any other citizen and not as an alien. He had on faith in the reservation system and does not now believe that the berding together of the Indians will accomplish anything, except the annihilation of the race. It was Captain Pratt's original thought that until the Indian youths were scattered among the whites their condition would not be materially improved, and he carried out this policy when the school at Carlisle was opened.

OUTING SYSTEM SUCCESSFUL His outing system has been a success from the beginning. Every summer from 400 to 500 of the girls and boys of the school live upon the farms of eastern Pennsylvania. They are in demand and the applications for their services largely exceeds the supply. Their earnings last summer amount ed in the aggregate to nearly $25,000 and the boys and girls were able to hear their own expenses at the World's fair, Today four big chiefs were present

Captain Pratt, and their expenses, over $200, were paid by the students. These cutefs were Lone Wolf, a leader of the Kiowas; Quanah, a rich Comanche; Cloud Chief, a Chey-enne, and Black Coyote, an Arrappahos chieftain. They will spend several days at the school and will have a pow wow with Captain Pratt, to whom they bear messages of good will from their people on the frontier.

THE OPINION OF LONE WOLF. In a speech last night Loue Wolf, who is a fine looking, intelligent man and an orator, dwelt upon the kind-ness of those who had given these privileges to their children. Captain Pratt, he said, had been raised up by the great spirit to do this work and added: "As I look into the faces of these Indian children I am thankful, You have already started on the right old and all you want to do is to push forward. Keep your faces to the front. Do not turn aside, but go forward. I like to see the young In-dians grow up to be different from what their parents have been. I like the white man's rule.
